

French Command Structure

Commander in Chief: Marshal Soult

2nd Corps (Marshal Sebastiani)

3rd Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

4th Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

5th Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

Artillery Battery (4 x 12pdrs)

Cavalry Brigade (4 squadrons)

3rd Corps (Marshal MacDonald)

6th Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

7th Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

8th Infantry Division (4 Regiments)

Artillery Battery (4 x 12pdrs)

Cavalry Brigade (4 squadrons)

1st Corps Reserve Division (advanced positions)

4 Regiments

Artillery Battery (4 x 6 pdrs)

6th Corps Reserve Division(Tiefefluss Bridge)

4 Regiments

Artillery Battery (3 x 8 pdrs)

Cavalry Brigade (4 squadrons)

4th Cavalry Corps (General Kellerman)

9th Cavalry Division: 4 Regiments (8 squadrons)

Horse Battery 3 x 6pdrs

10th (Heavy) Cavalry Division: 4 Regiments (8 squadrons)

Horse Battery 3 x 6pdrs

11th Cavalry Division: 4 Regiments (8 squadrons)

Horse Battery 3 x 6pdrs

Army Artillery Reserve

Foot Battery 4 x 12pdrs

Foot Battery 4 x 12pdrs

Foot Battery 4 x 12pdrs

Marshal Soult : Dave O' Brien (Artillery Reserve, Reserve Divisions 1 & 6 Corps)

Marshal Sebastiani: Dale Smith(2nd Corps)

Marshal Macdonald: Andrew Nicholson (3rd Corps)

General Kellerman: Bob Lauder (4th Cavalry Corps)

Note : At the start of the battle 0830 Hours only the 9th and 11th Cavalry Divisions are available to Kellerman and on the field.

Marshal Berthier's command is not on the field. (and did NOT ARRIVE during the entire game!)