MONKS MASSACRED IN MAD MARCH MAYHEM

The beginning of the Year of the Dog has become a real bitch for the peace loving people of Central Asia as foreign forces run amok.

For a number of weeks there had been unease around the region as foreign armies had been gathering on their borders and with a couple of European expeditions travelling around the country on supposedly peaceful purposes. Two Chinese forces of Ming the Merciless and Wan Lang Pi stood to readiness in case events took a turn for the worse which happened from an unexpected source.

The Russian White army under Andrei Tomski which had been offered sanctuary on Chinese soil attacked a Chinese armoured train, firstly by blowing the tracks behind it then assaulting the train itself with bombs. At the same time forces from the Mad Baron Rypyerheidov, the so called Army of God led by Dali Smyti, another White force with British backing under command of General Yuri Deadovich and two Red Bolshevik forces under commanders KrasnyDavidovitch Imreiski and Andrei Nicholson all invaded Asian territory.

Right from the beginning it was obvious that these forces were not acting to some preconceived plan and very quickly started to trade blows with each other. The Red armoured train which had advanced from Alta-ama came under fire from the Mad Barons forces whilst the German Archaeological expedition seemed to take offensive positions.
